A 5 days theme
week focusing on
the diversity of sustainability

what is esd?

the premier sustainability event for young professionals.

The erasmus sustainability days (esd) is the biggest student-organized sustainability event of the year for students and young professionals that are interested in sustainability and sustainability careers.

With this years theme “Taking Back Our Future” we focus on the ambition of young leaders to influence and solve the problems of our time and to realise their power and their possibility to affect change.

Our mission is to show that change is diverse because sustainability is much more than just the environmental perspective, but also includes a social and governance perspective that is crucial to solve the wicked problems that we face.

With a variety of events from panel discussions, workshops, lectures via business cases, round table sessions to a career fair, we want to give inspiration and solution approaches to the mentioned pressing problems and place additional emphasis on career opportunities within the sustainability sector.
